PHS Principal Resigns To Accept New Position At Lenape Valley High

Marylu Coviello announced Friday that she would resign as principal of Princeton High School to become principal of Lenape Valley Regional High School. She became the second PHS administrator to announce her departure in the past month, and the seventh administrator to leave the District in the past year.

With the resignation of Assistant Principal Elaine Davis in May, and Friday's announcement, the only administrator remaining at Princeton High School will be Assistant Principal Owen Snyder. Ms. Davis is leaving to become principal of Montclair High School.

Ms. Coviello, 43, will be paid

Juniper Row Woman Named Foster Mother of the Year

Jo Ellen Jefferson of 19 Juniper Row has been named Foster Mother of the Year by the New Jersey Department of Human Services, Division of Youth and Family Services (DYFS).

At a ceremony at the Ukrainian Center in Somerville, Ms. Jefferson received a plaque from DYFS, a citation from DYFS of Mercer County, and a citation from the Foster Parents Association of New Jersey. Attending the ceremony with her were the four foster children now in her care, ranging in age from 3½ weeks to 5 years, plus her own son, Robert, 10, a 3-year-old cousin she is caring for temporarily, and a host of family and friends.

Ms. Jefferson has provided a home and nurture to some 17 foster children over the past dozen years. All but one were born to drug-addicted mothers and have suffered drug-related problems. The one exception is the most recent arrival, a tiny little girl who at 3½ weeks weighs only 5½ pounds but is fine in all other respects.

Ms. Jefferson plans to adopt the two girls age 2½ and 5 who are sisters but came to her at different times. Both are developmentally slow and have been under the care of Project Child Early Intervention of Mercer County. The

Report on Library Recommends Moderate Expansion of Facilities

The recently released Phase One report of a feasibility study analyzing expansion possibilities of the Princeton Public Library states that the present library is undersized for present needs, let alone future needs.

The report recommends a "moderate" expansion of between 26,372 and 30,155 square feet, depending upon whether a new building is constructed or the existing building is renovated. The cost would be $9.7 million to renovate on the existing site and $9.9 million without land acquisition costs to build a two- story building elsewhere.

Moderate expansion of the existing structure envisions adding a third floor, building a new penthouse on the roof to house heating and air-conditioning mechanicals and a "two or three" story addition in the adjacent parking lot.

This additional square footage would meet the needs of the community through the year 2013, according to the report, whereas "reconfiguration" of existing space by filling in the open wells to create more usable area, relocating mechanical equipment to a new enclosure on the roof to gain additional second floor space and shifting space assignments would not satisfy the current needs of the Library, let alone longer term needs. Code requirements will have to be considered and are a significant element of the cost.

The 1989 Citizens Advisory Committee recommended adding 40,000 square feet to the existing library at a cost of $7.7 million. The purchase of furniture and furnishings for the addition and upgrading the library collection boosted the total projected cost to $9.4 million. The availability of the former Epstein's building as a possible site in which to expand the library, plus concern of the members of the two governing bodies over the tax implications of the expansion, led eventually to a decision to have a new study made by professional consultants.

The engineering firm of Kieran, Timberlake & Harris of Philadelphia was selected to conduct the study at a cost of $67,000 to be shared by both municipalities. The consultants were asked to analyze the space needs of the Library; evaluate the program and space recommendations of the Citizens' Advisory Committee; and analyze the merits and costs of two potential sites for an expanded Library — the existing site on Witherspoon Street and a site off Terhune ture as a response to a wonderful promotion and opportunity. But he believes other forces were at work in Ms. Coviello's decision.

He said he had been greatly concerned about the conduct of the Board and some members nf the public a number of months ago, when he publicly characterized Board meetings as a disgrace. "Some of these decisions to seek alternatives were made in that period," he said.

He described the working relations between the Board and Administration, and within the Administration itself, as "very uncertain and an uncomfortable kind of elimate for administrators."

'Hopefully at an End'

Mr. Clearwater said a number of administrators made the decision at that particular time to take a look at what else was available. "Hopefully this is at an end," he said. "Hopefully we will change and continue to change, and have a more constructive working relationship."

The question, said Mr. Clearwater, was whether there wnuld be further departures from the District, or whether people would be convinced there would now be a review of their concerns.

He did not answer the question he raised. Rumors persist, however, that other administrators are seeking to leave Princeton.

Mr. Clearwater said Ms. Coviello's move was a lateral one, which indicated that she didn't see the opportunity in Princeton to do some of the things she wanted to do.

There is another critical question: How will the leadership vacuum at the high school be filled? Will Owen Snyder be moved up to the principalship?

Prior to her appointment as assistant principal in 1987, Ms. Coviello had never served as a principal. She had been an English teacher in Fort Lee High School for ten years and an English Department supervisor at Secaucus High School for seven years.

Ms. Coviello, who holds an Ed.D. in English Education from Rutgers University, was named interim principal in 1990, when Mr. Sakala left the high school. After a national search by a Manasquan consultant, she was hired from a list of three finalists. All were currently principals. School Superintendent Carol Choye had recommended to the Board that it seleet Ms. Coviello to lead the high school.

to eliminate smoking on the grounds They will still smoke."

Roz Frisch commented from the audience that since the purpose of the schools is education, "If we have to ban smoking, then we should have a program at the same time explaining it. Maybe the American Cancer Society could participate."

This idea will be examined Acting Superintendent M Lee Pisauro and Mr. Clearwater said they expected a revised policy on smoking to be presented to the Board in early June.

PHS Unexcused Absences

The other petition, with more than 130 signatures, was presented by Ed Wilson, and addressed the high school's unexcused absence policy. "We are not unreasonable people, we are all concerned parents," he explained. "We are pleased with the action that has been taken on the smoking policy, and we request that similar action be taken on unexcused absences."

Presently, Princeton High School juniors and seniors are permitted seven unexcused absences, and freshmen and sophomores three.

Mrs Farley pointed out that "When I spoke to the other schools, I also asked about their attendence policy. They all said no cuts — absolutely!

"I'd really like to know how many of our kids are actually in school each day," she added. "What if some of them are not in school and something dreadful happened to them? Are we as taxpayers involved in a lawsuit? Most of the public is unaware of these policies, and when we talk to people, they are shocked.

Her husband, Bill Farley, added, "We are trying to show that people who are vocal about this can change policy."

The public was also very interested in the Board's decisions regarding redistricting and teacher transfers. Because currently at John Witherspoon, three will be transferred to the elementary level This decision has caused concern among many middle school parents, and the Administration had been asked to reexamine its decision.

"I still see African-American teachers going off to Johnson Park," said Township resident Wanda McEwen "I feel it's a slap in the face to the black community Role models are being taken away from the middle school."

Ed Kazimir, a volunteer from the American Cancer Society, supported Mrs. Farley's demand.

"What is important is the image that is given," he said. "We do not want people to smoke If you have an area where smoking is sanctioned, this is dangerous. Peer pressure is everything. If someone 14 sees 16- and 17-year-olds smoking, he thinks this is a cool thing, and he'll try it. Make the policy consistent. Don't smoke — period."

Student Board member Supti Bhattacharya (who had earlier been honored by Board President John Clearwater for her loyal service) remarked that although she understood the health concerns of parents, there was another point of view. "It's a fact that if smoking is banned on school grounds, students will go across Moore Street and smoke It won't change things

Mr. Green was arraigned Saturday morning at his hospital bed in Princeton Medical Center. No bail was set for Mr. Green, who is being guarded by West Windsor police.

After allegedly beating his wife to death as she lay in bed, Mr. Green then tried to commit suicide by locking himself in his car in his garage and turning on the engine. He was found unconscious by police, revived and taken to the Medical Center in guarded condition. It was upgraded to fair on Monday and police said he will be transported to the Mercer County Detention Center when his condition allows.

The couple's two adopted sons, 12 and 3, and a nanny were in the house when the slaying took place. West Windsor police were notified at 8 a.m. by the 12-year-old after he discovered his mother's body. The two boys are being cared for by a next-door neighbor.

The victim was found dead about 4:30 Saturday morning. Lt. Michael Chipowsky of the Hopewell Township police department said there are no known witnesses to the shooting. Lt. Chipowsky said the shooting apparently took place following the breakup of a party attended by some 20 friends of the victim and the suspect. It is possible, he admitted, that some may have witnessed the shooting and fled before police arrived at the scene. A handgun was found on the kitchen floor.

Appeal Filed Last Week By Suspended Patrolman

Suspended for 15 days for his role in an off-duty incident last September 24 at Marita's Cantina Resturant on Nassau Street, Borough Ptl. Robert Shoblock was suspended again for 30 days for his role in a high-speed, five-mile chase up Nassau Street in the early morning hours of December 24.

That second incident came to light when Ptl. Shoblock filed papers last week in Mercer County state Superior Court to have his suspensions revoked (the two were allowed to run concurrently) and his record cleared. Ptl. Shoblock is also requesting back pay of an estimated loss of $3,000 in income and payment of his legal bills by the Borough.

cats to punctuate the Borough streetscape for a few more days — or drag them out of sight until Sunday comes around.

Joining Ptl. Shoblock in his suit is Ptl. Vincent DcMartino, who was dismissed from the force in March, after he allegedly grabbed a Trenton State student by the neck at Marita's and later assaulted him.

Ptl. Shoblock's most recent brush with the law has raised a double standard issue because he was not issued any summonses, despite his admission that he had committed several motor vehicle violations.

According to court records filed with his lawsuit and from police testimony, Ptl. Shoblock left the J.B. Winberie Restaurant on Palmer Square around 2:15 a.m. December 24. His car was observed by Borough Sgt. Robert Currier passing a car in a no-passing zone on Nassau Street by crossing over a double yellow line. When the suspect's car passed a second car illegally, Sgt. Currier activated his overhead lights and began a pursuit.

Sgt. Currier reported that he had reached speeds of up to 90 miles an hour before the chase ended on Princeton-Kingston Road near the Franklin Township border.

tindell who saw a problem of appearances. "The average person," said Mr. Martindell, "if he has traffic summonses, goes to court, pays a lawyer to defend him, and if found guilty, is subject to fines, surcharges and possible suspension of his driver's license. And if that person loses his job in the process, it's unfortunate but that's the way it is.

"That process which applies to the rest of us was not applied to Officer Shoblock. Because of that, there appears to be a double standard." The only way to prevent any wrong perceptions, Mr. Martindell concluded, is to treat police officers like everyone else. "We didn't do that."

Chief Thomas Michaud defended Sgt. Currier's response and the action taken against Ptl. Shoblock. "It is my feeling that he (Ptl. Shoblock) was dealt with in a harsher manner than most likely the average citizenry would be," said Chief Michaud.

"The papers are making a case that he was intoxicated. That is not the case," Chief Michaud continued. "Sgt. Currier made the decision he was not intoxicated." A person, Chief Michaud said, could have one glass of wine, smell like he was intoxicated and not be intoxicated at all.

"There was never any assumption on our part that he was intoxicated." Noting that while Ptl. Shoblock had passed cars, was weaving over the road and speeding, he was still in control. "You can't operate a car successfully when you're drunk. That argument doesn't hold water."

Chief Michaud further commented that he felt Ptl. Shoblock had received a significant penalty through a loss of income. "That's a lot of money. Certainly it cost a lot of money in terms of his legal defense. I think it is a significant economic hardship."

As for there being a double standard, one for police, one for citizens, Chief Michaud heartily disagreed.

y morning, Jo-Anne of Wallingford Drive ndsor Township, was oludgeoned to death ench wielded by her d husband, Gerald Green. In Hopewell, 24-year-old Brian Mara was shot in the face and slain following an alleged drinking and drug party at a home on Lafayette Street.

Mr. Green was arraigned Saturday morning at his hospital bed in Princeton Medical Center. No bail was set for Mr. Green, who is being guarded by West Windsor police.

After allegedly beating his wife to death as she lay in bed, Mr. Green then tried to commit suicide by locking himself in his car in his garage and turning on the engine. He was found unconscious by police, revived and taken to the Medical Center in guarded condition. It was upgraded to fair on Monday and police said he will be transported to the Mercer County Detention Center when his condition allows.

The couple's two adopted sons, 12 and 3, and a nanny were in the house when the slaying took place. West Windsor police were notified at 8 a.m. by the 12-year-old after he discovered his mother's body. The two boys are being cared for by a next-door neighbor.

Hopewell Valley Grads

Hopewell police have charged Patrick McAlinden, 24, of the Lafayette address where the victim was found, with the murder of Mr. Mara. He was arraigned Saturday morning before Borough Municipal Judge Robert Billmeier and

The victim was found dead about 4:30 Saturday morning. Lt. Michael Chipowsky of the Hopewell Township police department said there are no known witnesses to the shooting. Lt. Chipowsky said the shooting apparently took place following the breakup of a party attended by some 20 friends of the victim and the suspect. It is possible, he admitted, that some may have witnessed the shooting and fled before police arrived at the scene. A handgun was found on the kitchen floor.

Appeal Filed Last Week By Suspended Patrolman

Suspended for 15 days for his role in an off-duty incident last September 24 at Marita's Cantina Resturant on Nassau Street, Borough Ptl. Robert Shoblock was suspended again for 30 days for his role in a high-speed, five-mile chase up Nassau Street in the early morning hours of December 24.

That second incident came to light when Ptl. Shoblock filed papers last week in Mercer County state Superior Court to have his suspensions revoked (the two were allowed to run concurrently) and his record cleared. Ptl. Shoblock is also requesting back pay of an estimated loss of $3,000 in income and payment of his legal bills by the Borough.

ough streetscape for a few more days — or drag them out of sight until Sunday comes around.

Joining Ptl. Shoblock in his suit is Ptl. Vincent DeMartino, who was dismissed from the force in March, after he allegedly grabbed a Trenton State student by the neck at Marita's and later assaulted him.

Ptl. Shoblock's most recent brush with the law has raised a double standard issue because he was not issued any summonses, despite his admission that he had committed several motor vehicle violations.

According to court records filed with his lawsuit and from police testimony, Ptl. Shoblock left the J.B. Winberie Restaurant on Palmer Square around 2:15 a.m. December 24. His car was observed by Borough Sgt. Robert Currier passing a car in a no-passing zone on Nassau Street by crossing over a double yellow line. When the suspect's car passed a second car illegally, Sgt. Currier activated his overhead lights and began a pursuit.

Sgt. Currier reported that he had reached speeds of up to 90 miles an hour before the chase ended on Princeton-Kingston Road near the Franklin Township border.

tindell who saw a problem of appearances. "The average person," said Mr. Martindell, "if he has traffic summonses, goes to court, pays a lawyer to defend him, and if found guilty, is subject to fines, surcharges and possible suspension of his driver's license. And if that person loses his job in the process, it's unfortunate but that's the way it is.

"That process which applies to the rest of us was not applied to Officer Shoblock. Because of that, there appears to be a double standard." The only way to prevent any wrong perceptions, Mr. Martindell concluded, is to treat police officers like everyone else. "We didn't do that."

Chief Thomas Michaud defended Sgt. Currier's response and the action taken against Ptl. Shoblock. "It is my feeling that he (Ptl. Shoblock) was dealt with in a harsher manner than most likely the average citizenry would be," said Chief Michaud.

"The papers are making a case that he was intoxicated. That is not the case," Chief Michaud continued. "Sgt. Currier made the decision he was not intoxicated." A person, Chief Michaud said, could have one glass of wine, smelt like he was intoxicated and not be intoxicated at all.

"There was never any assumption on our part that he was intoxicated." Noting that while Ptl. Shoblock had passed cars, was weaving over the road and speeding, he was still in control. "You can't operate a car successfully when you're drunk. That argument doesn't hold water."

Chief Michaud further commented that he felt Ptl. Shoblock had received a significant penalty through a loss of income. "That's a lot of money. Certainly it cost a lot of money in terms of his legal defense. I think it is a significant economic hardship."

As for there being a double standard, one for police, one for citizens, Chief Michaud heartily disagreed.

Interim Superintendent Interviews Set by Board

Three former New Jersey school superintendents will be interviewed by the Board of Education in closed session on Wednesday night, June 2. The Board is then expected to select one to fill the post of interim superintendent of schools.

The three are, Richard Willever, who retired as superintendent of the West Windsor-Plainsboro District in 1991; Melvin Klein, who retired as superintendent in Livingston in 1983 and has served as interim superintendent in a number of Eleanor Nunes is the mother of a skateboarder, and she has been trying to get the Borough to find a place for the sport. The YMCA stepped in and offered to help, and now Mrs. Nunes says the YM has welched on its promise.

After being told that the YM insurance would cover skateboarders — and being assured that the Borough's would not — she said she later received a phone call telling her that the YM's policy would not cover the sport.

Not so, said YMCA Executive Director John Jorgensen. The insurance, he said, is definitely available. The only problem is that Mrs. Nunes wants the YM to build a ramp for the skateboarders. This, he said, was not made clear to him when he spoke to Mrs. Nunes on the phone several weeks ago and pledged the YM's help.

Not so, said Mrs. Nunes during a meeting with several members of Borough Council last week. "He knew we needed a structure."

During the meeting, Councilwoman Jane Terpstra said there were too many questions on liability to discuss using municipal space for skateboarding.

Skateboarding is banned in the Central Business District of the Borough, as is bicycle riding. Ms. Terpstra said the rationale for these restrictions is that the space is heavily used by pedestrians.

Although he said the YM could not build a permanent structure for skateboarders, Mr. Jorgensen affirmed that other arrangements could be made.

"Perhaps they could use the outdoor basketball court," he said. "We would be very interested in developing a training program to teach kids the sport. We could work out the details."

Mr. Jorgensen and Mrs. Nunes still have not met to discuss this issue.

Baccalaureate, the interfaith worship service that officially ends the school year, will be held Sunday at 2 in the Princeton University Chapel. The cartoonist Gary Trudeau is scheduled to be the speaker. Seats inside the chapel are reserved for family and friends of the graduating seniors and members of the faculty, but the ceremony will be broadcast to those seated outside in front of the Chapel.

The service will be followed by a garden reception at Prospect for degree recipients and guests, hosted by Princeton President Harold T. Shapiro and Mrs. Shapiro. Monday is Class Day with several activities for the graduating Class of 1993, culminating in the Graduation Ball in Jadwin Gym and the Senior Party afterwards in Dillon Gym.

Princeton University's 246th annual Commencement will take place at 11 a.m. Tuesday in front of Nassau Hall. If it rains, which it rarely does on Princeton's Commencement, the ceremony will be held in Jadwin Gym.

Six Princeton area residents were fined last week in Township traffic court.

Fined $68 each for speeding are Bella Ross, 933 Great Road East; Evan L. Goldman, 10 Vernon Circle, and Heiock Kim, 5 Dogwood Drive, Lawrenceville. Gerda A. Ehaste, 226 Jefferson Road, paid $68 for obstructing traffic.

Augustine T. Price, 38 Magnolia Lane, was fined $126 for leaving the scene of an accident in which there was property damage. Parking in a handicapped zone at Griggs Farm cost Rachel Herman of Cranbury, $101.

Jim Anousky of Princeton Bakery in the Princeton Shopping Center was fined $50 for violating the Township's grease trap ordinance.

$115 Stolen Last Week From YM Desk Drawer

Overnight last week, someone entered a locked room in the Princeton YMCA building without force and then used a prying tool to force open a desk drawer and steal $115.

In a probable related incident, someone stole an unknown amount of change from an employee's purse that was left unattended at the Y between Thursday afternoon and Saturday evening.

A thief forced open a Plexiglas window pane of an overhead bay door at a Nassau Street service station last week and stole $50 from a cash register tray.

Supplies for a vending machine, including snacks and sodas worth a combined $205 were stolen overnight last week from a locked storage closet in the basement of the 20 Nassau Street building. The victim is the 20 Nassau Street Corporation.

WINE TASTING: The sales staff at Governors Lane, the enclave of Georgian townhouses off Terhune Road, recently held a wine tasting at the model. The event provided an opportunity for prospective buyers to see the model, tour the green of the completed Phase I, and learn about the newest phase, Bloomfield Court. Shown, from left, are Florence Dawes, head of sales, Colleen Hall, Karen Callaway, Shirley Kinsley, Mary Grasso, and Kathy Rolph.

Three parked cars were entered in the Township last week, Lt. Peter Savalli reported. Two were parked in the Turning Basin Park off Alexander Road, where the driver's side window of each had been smashed to gain entry.

Taken from the 1984 Mercury of a Lawrenceville resident was the owner's wallet containing $14 and credit cards. A 1985 Saab belonging to a Somerville resident yielded a Rolex watch, coat and $80 cash, for a combined loss of $2,680.

Between 7:30 and 8:15 Thursday evening, a purse was stolen from a Plainsboro resident's Ford sedan that was parked at Battle Park off Mercer Road. There was no cash inside. Lt. Savalli said.

Case of the Missing Car

"We're looking at this as a stolen car," commented Capt. Peter Hanley, as he described a case of a missing car.

In June, 1992 a resident of Minnesota left his inoperative, 1980 Buick in the driveway of a boarding house at 53 North Tulane Street. On May 19, the owner tried to locate it but was unsuccessful.

"We checked with people who live there and with the real estate agent but no one knows what happened to it," said Capt. Hanley. "We have not had any direct contact with the owner." The missing car is valued by the owner at $100.

Two juvenile girls who attend private school here, one 15, one 13, have been charged with shoplifting at a Nassau Street toy store. The girls were seen by a clerk putting small stuffed animals into their pants pockets.

Taken, police said, were a stuffed lion, a Tasmanian Devil and a 101-Dalmatian dog worth a combined $22. The girls were later released to family members.

A small, apratment-sized refrigerator was stolen overnight last week when it was left outside Patton Hall on the University campus to defrost. The fridge, rented from a student agency on campus, is valued at $150.

A wallet was stolen from the pocket of a coat left for 45 minutes in a bathroom in Holder Hall on campus. The victim told police that he had loaned his coat to a friend who had left it unattended. The wallet contained ID but no cash.

Six bicycles were reported stolen on campus last week. The most expensive was a $750 Trek mountain bike locked to itself that was taken from outside Pyne Hall. It is owned by a student from Alaska. The least expensive was an unlocked, $50 Nishiki taken from outside the Engineering Quadrangle building on Olden Street.

Also taken: a $300 Giant mountain bike from outside 1903 Hall, a $150 Shogun from outside 1937 Hall, a $450 Specialized mountain bike from outside Holder Hall, and a $370, 21-speed Trek from outside 1903 Hall.

A Princeton High student reported the theft of her $200 Schwinn from a rack on the school grounds. It was taken during a four-day period last week.

Baccalaureate, the interfaith worship service that officially ends the school year, will be held Sunday at 2 in the Princeton University Chapel. The cartoonist Gary Trudeau is scheduled to be the speaker. Seats inside the chapel are reserved for family and friends of the graduating seniors and members of the faculty, but the ceremony will be broadcast to those seated outside in front of the Chapel.

The service will be followed by a garden reception at Prospect for degree recipients and guests, hosted by Princeton President Harold T. Shapiro and Mrs. Shapiro. Monday is Class Day with several activities for the graduating Class of 1993, culminating in the Graduation Ball in Jadwin Gym and the Senior Party afterwards in Dillon Gym.

Princeton University's 246th annual Commencement will take place at 11 a.m. Tuesday in front of Nassau Hall. If it rains, which it rarely does on Princeton's Commencement, the ceremony will be held in Jadwin Gym.

Six Princeton area residents were fined last week in Township traffic court.

Fined $68 each for speeding are Bella Ross, 933 Great Road East; Evan L. Goldman, 10 Vernon Circle, and Heiock Kim, 5 Dogwood Drive, Lawrenceville. Gerda A. Ehaste, 226 Jefferson Road, paid $68 for obstructing traffic.

Augustine T. Price, 38 Magnolia Lane, was fined $126 for leaving the scene of an accident in which there was property damage. Parking in a handicapped zone at Griggs Farm cost Rachel Herman of Cranbury, $101.

Jim Anousky of Princeton Bakery in the Princeton Shopping Center was fined $50 for violating the Township's grease trap ordinance.

$115 Stolen Last Week From YM Desk Drawer

Overnight last week, someone entered a locked room in the Princeton YMCA building without force and then used a prying tool to force open a desk drawer and steal $115.

In a probable related incident, someone stole an unknown amount of change from an employee's purse that was left unattended at the Y between Thursday afternoon and Saturday evening.

A thief forced open a Plexiglas window pane of an overhead bay door at a Nassau Street service station last week and stole $50 from a cash register tray.

Supplies for a vending machine, including snacks and sodas worth a combined $205 were stolen overnight last week from a locked storage closet in the basement of the 20 Nassau Street building. The victim is the 20 Nassau Street Corporation.

WINE TASTING: The sales staff at Governors Lane, the enclave of Georgian townhouses off Terhune Road, recently held a wine tasting at the model. The event provided an opportunity for prospective buyers to see the model, tour the green of the completed Phase I, and learn about the newest phase, Bloomfield Court. Shown, from left, are Florence Dawes, head of sales, Colleen Hall, Karen Callaway, Shirley Kinsley, Mary Grasso, and Kathy Rolph.

Three parked cars were entered in the Township last week, Lt. Peter Savalli reported. Two were parked in the Turning Basin Park off Alexander Road, where the driver's side window of each had been smashed to gain entry.

Taken from the 1984 Mercury of a Lawrenceville resident was the owner's wallet containing $14 and credit cards. A 1985 Saab belonging to a Somerville resident yielded a Rolex watch, coat and $80 cash, for a combined loss of $2,680.

Between 7:30 and 8:15 Thursday evening, a purse was stolen from a Plainsboro resident's Ford sedan that was parked at Battle Park off Mercer Road. There was no cash inside. Lt. Savalli said.

Area Blood Drives

Summer months typically are periods of blood supply shortages. To help prevent critical depletions of blood supplies, the American Red Cross, New Jersey Capital Area Chapter, has scheduled two special drives in the Princeton area.

The first is on Monday from 8:30 to 1:30 at Novotel Hotel, 100 Independence Way, off Route 1 across from the Princeton Marriott. The other will take place Saturday, June 19, from 10 to 3 at the Church of Organization for Women - New Jersey (NOW-NJ), on Sunday at 4 at the Arts Council.

Ms. Terry will lead a discussion on feminist political and legal strategies for the State of New Jersey. Topics will include devising strategies for the upcoming state elections and challenging the sentencing of the convicted Glen Ridge rapists.

Newly elected as president of NOW-NJ, Ms. Terry has a long history of leadership and activism in New Jersey politics and human services. She has been a leader in the reproductive rights movement for over two decades, serving as director of the New Jersey Religious Coalition for Abortion Rights (1982-92) and president of Choice N.J. (1992). Her human services contributions include extensive experience in the area of mediation and divorce consultation.

Since 1979 she has been executive director of the Divorce Support Center and since 1990 she has been president of the Coalition for Divorce Reform. Among her many other activities are work with women in crisis and the NJ Mental Health Counselors Association.

The "Feminization of Power" Forum is free of charge and all interested members of the public are welcome to take part. The Forum is co-sponsored by the Princeton Area New Party, NOW chapter and the Princeton University Women's Center.

For more information, call the Women's Center at 258-5565.

Family Nature Walks And a Country Bike Ride

Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association and the Washington Crossing Audubon Society will co-sponsor a family and adult walk entitled "Gall Haul" Saturday from 9 to 11.

Naturalist Jennie Hanson will lead a stroll through the Watershed trails looking for galls. Participants will learn what a gall is, and the role of insects in the formation of galls. This program is free but pre-registration is required.

On Thursday, June 10, at 8 p.m. there will be a family and adult walk to watch the spectacular aerodynamics of bats feeding on insects. A bat detector will be used to listen to the ultrasonic feeding calls of little brown bats.

The Watershed Association is also offering a country bike tour through southern Hunterdon County on Saturday, June 12, at 7:30 a.m. The tour will cover 18 miles of scenic country and rolling terrain, in-ant to Bishop John Spong of the Episcopal Diocese of Newark.

In September, 1992, the Rev. Smith began chairing a subcommittee of the Coalition's Steering Committee to consider options for a new name for the organization. After a six month process, the subcommittee recommended adopting "Coalition for Peace Action," which was unanimously endorsed by the Steering Committee and approved by 91 percent of the members in a mail ballot.

The Coalition will begin using the new name as soon as the legal paperwork to effect it can be executed. In the meantime, it will continue to operate as the Coalition for Nuclear Disarmament, with its tax-exempt educational arm continuing as the Nuclear Disarmament Education Fund. The address, telephone, and staff of the organization remain the same.

Summer Theatre Arts At Villagers Theatre

The Villagers Theatre, located in the Franklin Township municipal complex on DeMott Lane, Somerset, has announced this year's Summer Theatre Arts Program.

An intensive training program stressing the rudiments of the theatre, it runs from July 5 to August 13. Each two-week session will end in a performance on the last Friday of each of the three sessions. The program is designed for talented performers from ages 6 to 18, who show the desire and a dedication to the performing arts, including dance, drama, musical theatre and instrumental music.

Students will explore the many areas of the performing arts by practical experience as well as participation in workshops conducted by guest artists. The program runs daily, Monday through Friday from 9 to 3:30 for students 8 to 18. A half-day session from 9 to noon is offered for the younger performer.

A new addition to the program is instrumental music study which continues the practical training of musicians entering junior high through high school. Instrumental students will be asked to audition for this part of the program to evaluate the individual level of musical expertise.

The instrumental music program will only be offered from 1 to 3:30; however students may attend as full-day participants and explore other areas of the performing arts during the morning classes.

Parents interested in this summer program may call ing artists in exchange for their services as staff. Interested students between the ages of 14 and 18 may apply by sending three letters of recommendation from arts professionals based on their experience in the performing arts as well as one personal letter of reference based on their abilities as a children's supervisor.

Upon receipt of applications each student will be contacted by program director Janet Cantore-Watson, to attend an audition to be scheduled in June. Students selected must be available for all six weeks and must attend a staff orientation on Friday, July 2, at the theatre

Water Samplers Needed For Stream Monitoring

StreamWatch, the water quality monitoring program developed by the Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association, is looking for volunteers to help with its second year of water testing.

Volunteers help monitor the water quality at 21 designated sites along Lake Carnegie, Stony Brook, the Millstone River and Bedens Brook. Volunteers are trained in field procedures during a half-day session at the Watershed Association. Monitoring is done every other Saturday morning and takes approximately one hour

Measurements are taken for nitrates, phosphates, pH, dissolved oxygen, turbidity and temperature to determine the impact non-point sources of pollution are having on streams. Each site is assigned a team of two volunteers who will be responsible for monitoring the water for a 12-month period.

Sites are available in Hopewell Township, Kingston, Montgomery Township, Princeton Township and West Windsor Township.

A volunteer does not have to be a scientist. More than 50 area residents — teachers, business people, professors, retirees — are already involved with StreamWatch, a hands-on way to help protect the local environment.

For more information call Jamie Kyte Sapoch, 737-3735.

Reunion at Princeton

After the picture was taken, women in quiet groups moved away across campus to find seats along the P-rade route...For what seemed a very long time, while the classes massed in their prescribed ranks back at the main gate, we waited...

And then you heard it, very faint, very far away, the percussion first. 'Goin' back...goin' back...goin' back to Nassau Hall...' and then a regular cadence, which turned out to be the feet of marching men, and then 1,500 male voices, aged 21 to 91 'goin' back...goin' back.'

And then the band turned the corner, the sound rolled down the old street like a tidal wave, and 'Oh, God,' I sobbed to brisk, no-nonsense little Ginny, who'd been through this so many times and was surely going to laugh at me. 'I'm going to make the most awful damned fool of myself.' But her face was buried in her hands and her shoulders were shaking, and she didn't hear me.

They were absolutely beautiful, these Princeton men marching by on a sunny June Saturday, and I don't give a holy hoot in hell that I cried for the one hour and fifteen minutes it took them to pass me."

ant to Bishop John Spong of the Episcopal Diocese of Newark.

In September, 1992, the Rev. Smith began chairing a subcommittee of the Coalition's Steering Committee to consider options for a new name for the organization. After a six month process, the subcommittee recommended adopting "Coalition for Peace Action," which was unanimously endorsed by the Steering Committee and approved by 91 percent of the members in a mail ballot.

The Coalition will begin using the new name as soon as the legal paperwork to effect it can be executed. In the meantime, it will continue to operate as the Coalition for Nuclear Disarmament, with its tax-exempt educational arm continuing as the Nuclear Disarmament Education Fund. The address, telephone, and staff of the organization remain the same.

Summer Theatre Arts At Villagers Theatre

The Villagers Theatre, located in the Franklin Township municipal complex on DeMott Lane, Somerset, has announced this year's Summer Theatre Arts Program.

An intensive training program stressing the rudiments of the theatre, it runs from July 5 to August 13. Each two-week session will end in a performance on the last Friday of each of the three sessions. The program is designed for talented performers from ages 6 to 18, who show the desire and a dedication to the performing arts, including dance, drama, musical theatre and instrumental music.

Students will explore the many areas of the performing arts by practical experience as well as participation in workshops conducted by guest artists. The program runs daily, Monday through Friday from 9 to 3:30 for students 8 to 18. A half-day session from 9 to noon is offered for the younger performer.

A new addition to the program is instrumental music study which continues the practical training of musicians entering junior high through high school. Instrumental students will be asked to audition for this part of the program to evaluate the individual level of musical expertise.

The instrumental music program will only be offered from 1 to 3:30; however students may attend as full-day participants and explore other areas of the performing arts during the morning classes.

Parents interested in this summer program may call ing artists in exchange for their services as staff. Interested students between the ages of 14 and 18 may apply by sending three letters of recommendation from arts professionals based on their experience in the performing arts as well as one personal letter of reference based on their abilities as a children's supervisor.

Upon receipt of applications each student will be contacted by program director Janet Cantore-Watson, to attend an audition to be scheduled in June. Students selected must be available for all six weeks and must attend a staff orientation on Friday, July 2, at the theatre.

Water Samplers Needed For Stream Monitoring

StreamWatch, the water quality monitoring program developed by the Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association, is looking for volunteers to help with its second year of water testing.

Volunteers help monitor the water quality at 21 designated sites along Lake Carnegie, Stony Brook, the Millstone River and Bedens Brook. Volunteers are trained in field procedures during a half-day session at the Watershed Association. Monitoring is done every other Saturday morning and takes approximately one hour.

Measurements are taken for nitrates, phosphates, pH, dissolved oxygen, turbidity and temperature to determine the impact non-point sources of pollution are having on streams. Each site is assigned a team of two volunteers who will be responsible for monitoring the water for a 12-month period.

Sites are available in Hopewell Township, Kingston, Montgomery Township, Princeton Township and West Windsor Township.

A volunteer does not have to be a scientist. More than 50 area residents — teachers, business people, professors, retirees — are already involved with StreamWatch, a hands-on way to help protect the local environment.

For more information call Jamie Kyte Sapoch, 737-3735.

Reunion at Princeton

After the picture was taken, women in quiet groups moved away across campus to find seats along the P-rade route...For what seemed a very long time, while the classes massed in their prescribed ranks back at the main gate, we waited...

And then you heard it, very faint, very far away, the percussion first. 'Goin' back...goin' back...goin' back to Nassau Hall...' and then a regular cadence, which turned out to be the feet of marching men, and then 1,500 male voices, aged 21 to 91 'goin' back...goin' back.'

And then the band turned the corner, the sound rolled down the old street like a tidal wave, and 'Oh, God,' I sobbed to brisk, no-nonsense little Ginny, who'd been through this so many times and was surely going to laugh at me. 'I'm going to make the most awful damned fool of myself.' But her face was buried in her hands and her shoulders were shaking, and she didn't hear me.

They were absolutely beautiful, these Princeton men marching by on a sunny June Saturday, and I don't give a holy hoot in hell that I cried for the one hour and fifteen minutes it took them to pass me."

Annual Strawberry Social To Be Held in Griggstown

The annual Griggstown Strawberry Social will be held Saturday from 5 to 7:30 p.m. in the restored Old One Room Schoolhouse, located behind the Dutch Reformed Church on Canal Road. Sponsored by the Griggstown Historical Society, this old-fashioned family affair will feature "everything strawberry," including shortcake, waffles, strawberry pie, strawberry cheesecake and strawberry tarts. There will be homemade strawberry jam and fresh-picked strawberries sold by the pint or quart. Strawberry punch, as well as coffee and tea, will also be available.

How Do You Know A Nice Fish When You Meet One?

This is an important question. In general, look for the same qualities in a fish that you would in a friend: clear eyes, healthy skin-color and no strong body odors.

and Township Committee on Thursday, June 10, at 7:30 in Borough Hall.

Phase II, which will have to be authorized by the governing bodies, will focus on design schematics for expansion of the existing Library and/or construction of a new Library at a site adjacent to the Shopping Center.

The reconfiguration option would cost about $5 million and would involve the least increase in annual operating costs, $278,390. However, there would be other costs for relocation during construction and reconfiguration would not satisfy present program needs.

In addition to reconfiguration, three expansion options were considered: "minimum," "moderate" and "maximum." Expansion was considered at both the present site and a new site. The total square footage at a new site is projected as being somewhat less than the square footage needed at the present site, because the layout of a new building could be handled more efficiently.

Thus the "moderate" expansion that would add 30,000 square feet to the existing 26,600-square-foot building, for a total of 56,755 square feet, is compared to 52,972 square feet in a two-story building at a new site. Building costs are somewhat higher at a new site and annual operating costs somewhat lower.

"Minimum" expansion would involve adding 18,000 square feet to the existing building or constructing a new two-story building of 41,374 square feet. The costs are $7.3 million and $7.9 million, respectively, without land costs. The consultants say that "minimum" expansion would put the library "near capacity within a few years of construction."

Meet Needs for 50 Years

"Major" expansion, on the other hand, would meet projected needs for 40 to 50 years. Under this scenario, the library would grow to 73,180 square feet on the existing site (third floor, new penthouse and a three-story addition), or be built to 68,301 on a new site. The costs are in the $12 million range.

HBW Library Planning consultants were engaged by Kieran, Timberlake & Harris to review the Library's needs, using census data (minus graduate students) and space planning guidelines for typical public library space assignments. The consultants concluded that a building of 37,475 square feet is merited right now, and that by this measure the Princeton Public Library is 40 percent smaller than is appropriate to meet present needs.

The consultants noted that the Princeton population is "highly educated." They also say that the funding for the Library is "above the national norm for communities of the size of Princeton, but demand for services and circulation is correspondingly high."

They recommend moderate increase in the size the book collection, user seating, the size of the staff and library infrastructure but major increase in the number of periodicals.

Downtown Site Preferred

The accessibility study was prepared by still another firm, Valley Forge Laboratories. These consultants state that the current location on Witherspoon Street in the central business district is preferable to the sites at the Princeton Shopping Center from the point of view of pedestrian and bicycle access.

They also found that parking is "currently available and inexpensive" at the existing site for the majority of Library users.

If the Library stays at the current site, the consultants recommend discouraging long-term parking at the Park and Shop lot and continuing the policy of allowing first half hour free. "Having ample parking spaces available at this lot at all times will improve the public's perception of the parking situation," the consultants write.

They also say that the loss of 63 spaces in the adjacent lot should the library be expanded into the lot "does not justify the construction of a parking garage."

Informational Meeting On Homeschool Network

The Homeschoolers Support Network will hold a homeschool information meeting Thursday, June 10, at 7 at the Lawrence Public Library. A 20-minute video will be shown and questions about how to go about homeschooling and its benefits will be discussed.

The meeting will be led by Dr. Scott Turansky and his wife Carrie of Hopatcong Drive, Lawrenceville, who teach their five children at home. The Turanskys say they are not "down" on public schools but believe they can provide their children with a more rounded education than they could get in a classroom. Neither has a degree in education but say that is not necessary. Teaching a child at home is an option that is legally available to any New Jersey parent.

The Turanskys say that homeschooling is not for everyone but many families are choosing to do it because of its benefits for a family. They believe homeschooled children are often more socially adept, feeling comfortable with a whole range of people — adult, preschoolers, senior citizens — not just their peers.

Dr. Turansky heads the Homeschool Support Network which serves as a vehicle for parents who want to trade teaching ideas, plan field trips together or just socialize. Anyone interested in homeschooling is invited to come to the meeting or to call him at 882-4334 for information.

22-foot-wide cartway. He reminded everyonc that the greater the cut to Pretty Brook Road the more regrading will be needed of the slopes on either side to meet the road surface at its new level. There was talk of retaining walls and other means, "heroics" to some, normal operating procedure to others, to accomplish this.

Mayor Reed said he hoped that for the sake of fire trucks, Pretty Brook Road would be widened over time to 22 feet, the Township standard. Members of the puhlic spoke generally against widening of Pretty Brook.

Necklace of Ponds

Carl Hintz, a planner retained hy the residents, also testified last Thursday. Referring to the Princeton Community Master Plan, Mr. Hintz spoke of the importance of open space corridors to the community and mentioned the "necklace of ponds" whose continuity will be destroyed by development.

Other speakers included Jorgen Roed, who criticized the applicant's plan as not being of the high quality one would expect in Princeton, and another Brooks Bend resident who complained about the noise and hours of construction trucks.

James Kilgore, speaking on behalf of his mother, Mary Louise Bielman, a longtime Pretty Brook Road resident whose property is directly across from the lower pond and also includes a pond, told the board his mother supports the upper crossing for reasons of safety, environmental impacts and aesthetics.

The Planning Board is hoping to finish the hearings and vote on the application on Thursday. Thomas Jamieson told Joseph O'Neill, Planning Board chairman, he will need an hour for summary and presumably Mr. Tarr will want the same.

22-foot-wide cartway. He reminded everyone that the greater the cut to Pretty Brook Road the more regrading will be needed of the slopes on either side to meet the road surface at its new level. There was talk of retaining walls and other means, "heroics" to some, normal operating procedure to others, to accomplish this.

Mayor Reed said he hoped that for the sake of fire trucks, Pretty Brook Road would be widened over time to 22 feet, the Township standard. Members of the public spoke generally against widening of Pretty Brook.

Necklace af Pands

Carl Hintz, a planner retained by the residents, also testificd last Thursday. Referring to the Princeton Community Master Plan, Mr. Hintz spoke of the importance of open space corridors to the community and mentioned the "necklace of ponds" whose connection would be adequate if Pretty Brook Road is so said that "all equal," it is better two roads meet ss from each oth- posed Rushbrook et Brooks Bend at , but have them other.

Other speakers included Jorgen Roed, who criticized the applicant's plan as not being of the high quality one would expect in Princeton, and another Brooks Bend resident who complained about the noise and hours of construction trucks.

James Kilgore, speaking on behalf of his mother, Mary Louise Bielman, a longtime Pretty Brook Road resident whose property is directly across from the lower pond and also includes a pond, told the board his mother supports the upper crossing for reasons of safety, environmental impacts and aesthetics.

The Planning Board is hoping to finish the hearings and vote on the application on Thursday. Thomas Jamieson told Joseph O'Neill, Planning Board chairman, he will need an hour for summary and presumably Mr. Tarr will want the same.

No mystery. No ceremony.
But a lot of deeply Christian thinking to apply in your daily life.

There are thoughtful hymns. The Lord's Prayer. Then, a different Lesson-Sermon every week, full of interesting ideas from the Bible and from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy.

And through it all, a concept of Love, divine Love, the way Christ Jesus lived it, that relates you to God in a new and revitalizing way.

If you think you'd enjoy the freshness of it, we'd love to have you come. This or any Sunday.

John D. Wallace

"Imagine That!" simulates a "night out" when no two circumstances are exactly the same for each of the players. Chips players collect during the game reflect the choices they've made during a number of sample situations. After the game, the facilitator leads the players in a discussion of their choices, the players' emotional reactions and the various implications of the game. A risk assessment sheet helps players determine their own level of risk in social situations where alcohol is involved. An alcohol fact sheet is also included.

The game is particularly useful in alcohol education programs, orientation sessions for first-year college students and other youth group settings. Additional information about "Imagine That!" is available by contacting Ms. Lederman at (908) 932-8295.

John D. Wallace

"Imagine That!" simulates a "night out" when no two circumstances are exactly the same for each of the players Chips players collect during the game reflect the choices they've made during a number of sample situations. After the game, the facilitator leads the players in a discussion of their choices, the players' emotional reactions and the various implications of the game. A risk assessment sheet helps players determine their own level of risk in social situations where alcohol is involved. An alcohol fact sheet is also included.

The game is particularly useful in alcohol education programs, orientation sessions for first-year college students and other youth group settings. Additional information about "Imagine That!" is available by contacting Ms. Lederman at (908) 932-8295.

Reading & Writing Center Accepting Applications

The Rider College Center for Reading and Writing (formerly the Reading/Language Arts Clinic), directed by Dr. Susan Mandel Glazer, is accepting registration for the summer 1993 session. Students, ages 6 through 16, will attend the Center three mornings a week, 8:45 to 11:45 a.m., for four weeks, beginning July 6.

The Center for Reading and Writing program helps to increase reading comprehension and composition skills using literature and content areas of the student's choice. Gifted, average, and special needs learners are eligible to attend.

Children will be placed in groups based on age and interest. Individual curriculum and instructional sessions will be planned for each, and each will work with other students in order to share their creative writing and learning experiences.

Most students will work in a micro-computer laboratory, using word processing programs to write, and other programs to increase reading and memory skills. Videotaped recordings of students working with teachers will be viewed throughout the program by the Center's professional staff in order to update curriculum to meet each child's needs most effectively.

More than 3,200 children have attended the Center since its establishment in 1980.

For more information and application forms, contact Gail Turner weekdays between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. at 896-5313.

Three A's Are Featured At PDS Summer Program

The Princeton Day School campus will be the site for a summer program for boys and girls from junior kindergarten through 12th grade (ages 4 through 17) this summer.

Academics, arts and athletics form the basis of the program, which is to provide a wide range of options for growth in those pursuits.

Custom programs can be created for each student with offerings ranging from backwoods and pond explora-

Applications Solicited For Arts Workshops

Applications are being accepted for Mercer County Community College's Tomato Patch visual and performing arts summer workshops, for sixth through 12th graders. Held annually on the college's West Windsor campus, Tomato Patch is one of the longest-running and most successful multi-disciplinary summer arts programs in central New Jersey.

A four-week session for ninth through 12th graders, will be held June 28 through July 23. A three-week session for sixth through eighth graders starts July 26 and ends August 13. Classes meet from 8:30 to 4, Monday through Thursday, and are taught by professional teaching artists.

Campers select a major concentration in either performing or visual arts and choose three electives in other areas. This year's elective offerings are: children's theater, computer art, improvisation, drawing, jazz dance, mask making and stage combat. Both sessions culminate with a Festival of the Arts, which showcases what campers have learned.

The cost for Session I is $400. Session II costs $300. A nonrefundable $25 fee is required with all applications. Art students will be requested to provide some supplies, and performing arts students may need some costuming. A limited amount of financial aid is available on a first-come basis through a grant from the Mercer County Cultural and Heritage Commission.

An optional After Camp program, at a cost of $25 per week, is available from 4 to 6 p.m.

For more information or to receive an application, call 586-4800, extension 581.

The curricula and teacher training methods for STAR Camp have been developed by Operation Smart (Science, Math and Relevant Technology), a pioneering national program of Girls Incorporated.

Four areas will be explored this summer: Architecture & Engineering, June 28 to July 9; World of Water, July 12 to 23; Playing with Power, July 26 to August 6; Earth, Air Wind & Fire - Ecology, August 9 to 20; and a potpourri of summer favorites, August 23 to September 3.

Staff includes South Brunswick teachers who have had additional summer training at Bellcore and Princeton Plasma Physics laboratories. Counselors are college graduates. Campers will also meet with professional scientists, engineers and technicians in relevant fields and will take field trips.

In addition, children will also participate in activities such as swimming lessons, sports, trip to a Phillies game, arts and crafts, and video technology.

STAR Camp will be held at Indian Fields School in Dayton on Route 522 at Route 130, a school with 200 computers, in-house broadcasting, and video-editing technology. The program will run in five two-week sessions. People signing up for at least two consecutive sessions can enroll their first-through fourth-grade children in BASE Camp.

The program is open 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. with the STAR Camp activities from 9 to 4. For more information, call Susan Davis at (908) 297-7800, extension 273.

Summer Youth Program At Community College

Mercer County Community College's Summer Youth Program is expanding the day camp options available to grade-school students, adolescents and high-schoolers.

An enriching alternative to traditional day camp, Camp College combines recreational activities and classes that emphasize intellectual growth.

Other summer programs include day camps in four sports — baseball, basketball, soccer and tennis — for kids ages 7 to 17.

Among the new offerings this season are two special topic camps for children ages 10 to 13: aviation camp and sea camp. In aviation camp, August 9 to 13, participants will learn about the history of flight and principles of aerodynamics before experiencing the thrill of flying.

Sea camp, July 26 to 30, will focus on marine biology and shore ecology in and around the waters of Sandy Hook. A cruise aboard a US Coast Guard-approved vessel is among the activities planned. Cost of either camp is $225.

Workshops for the Gifted

The number of summer workshops for gifted and talented students has increased to four; each is designed to provide stimulating, hands-on activities for outstanding students.

In addition to the Marine Biology Workshop, July 12 to 23, for students entering grades five to eight, camp activities for gifted students in grades seven through 10 include Introduction to Engineering Technologies, July 6 to 16, Aerospace/Aeronautics, August 9 to 20, and Computer Hackers, July 26 to 30. Costs range from $225 to $450.

A new sports camp, Golf & Track Sampler Camp, will be offered August 16 to 20 for children ages 7 to 13. Basic techniques of both sports will be taught to small groups, guaranteeing individualized instruction. The cost is $130.

Teens ages 12 to 15 may choose from an array of summer day trips and overnight activities.

Baseball fans will enjoy Ball Four, an opportunity to take in four baseball games at four different major league ballparks: Camden Yards, the Vet, and New York-based US aircraft carriers (August 13); or sailing the Clearwater, a Hudson River sloop, down Sandy Hook Bay (August 20). Cost is $45 per trip.

There are also many overnight trips for teenagers involving canoeing, white-water rafting, cliff-rappeling and sightseeing.

For more information or to register for any camps call 586-4800, extension 267 or 765.

Baseball fans will enjoy Ball Four, an opportunity to take in four baseball games at four different major league ballparks: Camden Yards, the Vet, and New York-based US aircraft carriers (August 13); or sailing the Clearwater, a Hudson River sloop, down Sandy Hook Bay (August 20). Cost is $45 per trip.

There are also many overnight trips for teenagers involving canoeing, white-water rafting, cliff-rappeling and sightseeing.

For more information or to register for any camps call 586-4800, extension 267 or 765.

Personnel Notes

Ellen P. Kaplan of the Princeton office of Richard A. Weidel Corporation, Realtors, achieved the 1992 NJAR State Million Dollar Club Silver Level. Mr. Kaplan was the top producing sales associate for 1992 at Weidel Princeton. In addition to top sales figures, she was also the leader in listings and in number of units sold.

Ms. Kaplan has achieved NJAR Million Dollar Sales Club every year since 1983 when she entered the profession and joined Weidel Princeton. A licensed real estate broker, she has been a Princeton area resident for 24 years.

Three area residents and sales associates in the Weichert Realtors' Princeton Office were recently honored. Sue Ann Snyder of Princeton earned the office's Top Sales Associate award for selling the most houses in March. Nancy Leslie of Montgomery Township received the Top Producer award for listing the most houses in April, and Harriet Hudson of West Windsor earned the office's Top Sales Agent award for selling the most houses in April.

James M. Weichert, president, has also announced that Montgomery Township resident Ed Nystrom has joined the Princeton office as a sales associate.

Estelle O'Connell, a veteran broker in the real estate field, has been named manager of the Gloria Nilson Princeton office on Nassau Street.

Ms. O'Connell, who holds the CRB designation, has been in real estate management for more than 15 years. A 25-year resident of the Princeton area, she is a former president of the Princeton Real Estate Group and the New Jersey Chapter CRB.

students is to use no tobacco. Tobacco is the number one cause of death in the United States, killing 100 times more Americans than do illegal drugs. For the Board of Education to allow smoking anywhere within its jurisdiction compromises, even destroys, the classroom message about nonsmoking and health.

Furthermore, allowing smoking on school grounds condones illegality because New Jersey law forbids the sale or furnishing of tobacco to minors.

Several years ago the New Jersey Commission on Smoking OR Health, with the New Jersey School Boards Association, surveyed schools on their smoking policies. At that time approximately one-third of schools had already made their grounds smokefree. More have done so in the intervening years. Princeton is behind the times.

The Board's argument that enforcement might be a problem, especially at football games, is ill founded. Other school districts have no extraordinary problems with enforcement. Many announce the rule at football games, etc. Nonsmokers are more willing to speak up when there's a sign or announcement of the rule.

I'm sure the school board wouldn't consider dropping its rule against alcohol on school grounds, even though there are, most likely, some violations. Furthermore, smoking violations are more conspicuous than drinking violations.

Mony Stadiums Smokefree

Many professional baseball and football stadiums have eliminated smoking from seating areas. Among them: Baltimore, Detroit, Los Angeles, Minneapolis, Houston, Montreal, Oakland, Philadelphia, Toronto, Seattle. Many college stadiums, including Stanford, and Michigan, which seats more than 100,000, are smokefree. These places are dealing with adults, with paying customers, and with a wide range of people.

premises smokefree. Hospitals, schools, and drug rehabs have done it successfully. Even workplaces in North Carolina, in the heart of tobacco country, have made their grounds smokefree.

I urge the Board of Education to catch up with enlightened social policy, to protect the health of students, and to respond to Princeton parents who are urging it to act responsibly.

Need a Policy to Prevent Tobacco Disease at PHS

To the Editor of Town Topics:

School Board member Dr. Chiara Nappi's comment on the overwhelming odor of tobacco smoke throughout Princeton High School illustrates the clear need for a carefully constructed policy for prevention of tobacco disease in the Princeton School District. Children who begin to smoke in high school and continue into their 50s can expect to lose at least 13 years of life and kill off a few close relatives and friends.

Tobbaco use has penetrated our economic and cultural life. The rules and customs regulating tobacco evolved before the danger of tobacco was recognized by the general public. Tobacco manufacturers base their claims to special privilege on accommodations to smoking and our own inability or unwillingness to confront the addiction of many adults.

Here are three concerns:

• Governmental agencies concerned with health, environmental safety and child protection have issued warnings and established guidelines for tobacco use at the same time that the government as a whole uses tobacco taxes as an important source of revenue. The tobacco companies love this relationship because it makes the government their partner and protector.

• Physicians, myself included, rail against smoking, especially among the young, but our fee-for-service health care system makes the medical profession another partner of the tobacco industry. My own position as director of an inner-city health care center is made more secure by the large numbers of children with chronic respiratory diseases engendered by their parents' smoking. Physicians in private practice generate substantially higher incomes from treating smokers and their for 50 years, is almost full. The N.J. Department of Environmental Protection and Energy will shortly make us close it. Therefore the SOC provides dumpsters on the River Road site for Princetonians to dispose of trash. The dumpsters are emptied at the Mercer County solid waste facility at a current price of $622 per load. This and the other costs of this activity have become too high and we must charge. Costs for 1992 were:

Dumpsters - 45 loads @ $622	$27,990
Administrative Cost	$6,250
Labor Cost for Dump Attendant, Maintenance of Site, Sorting of Recyclables, etc	$14,380
Total 1992 Cost	$48,620

The major cash cost is the $27 thousand for dumpsters. The other charges are allocated for work by existing personnel. They are not out-of-pocket costs, but do keep these people from other work.

To offset these costs we collected tickets worth $18,188 at present ticket prices. (The actual amount was less because ticket prices were only half as much for the first half of 1992.) Thus at the present rates, collections don't cover even what we pay for dumpsters. On the basis of total cost we were $30 thousand short — all of which goes to increase the towns' tax rate.

Can we save money? First, dumpster service is obtained on public bid and this year is going up from $622 per load to $709. Second, the site must be operated and maintained in decent shape. It is open only two days a week and schedules have been arranged to avoid extra charges due to overtime. Open time could be cut to one day a week which would save about $4,000 per year labor. Not much else we can do.

The Princeton dump is just one example of the huge cost of solid waste disposal. But you can be sure that such costs will only continue to go up. It is my personal opinion that the best solution is to build the Mercer County incinerator promptly. It is my considered opinion that there is little or no public danger to this and that it will provide an improved method of disposing of our solid waste.

I hope this explains things to those who are concerned. I invite citizens to call me if they want to discuss it further. My home phone is 921-8423.

Township Is Commended On Police Officer Hirings

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The Princeton Joint Commission on Civil Rights takes this occasion to congratulate the Police Department and elected officials of Princeton Township for the recent hiring of an African-American and a woman as police officers. We regard this decision as an important step towards fulfilling Princeton's commitment to diversity in its police forces.

We wish also to applaud the many citizens who have made this issue a major concern and have been supportive of the Civil Rights Commission in this regard. Their tireless efforts to encourage debate and educate the community on this matter have been rewarded by this decision, and they deserve our sincere thanks.

While we celebrate this move towards greater diversity in the Township Police force, the Commission is nonetheless mindful that it represents the first step on a longer journey towards fulfilling the civil rights agenda in this critical area.

We strongly urge the Township Committee and the Borough Council to develop long-term plans to achieve greater diversity in the police forces of the two municipalities, thereby avoiding tokenism and moving forthrightly towards genuinely diverse departments over the next several years.

...written for provincial audiences before Moliere and his troupe finally hit the big time of the Court and Paris in 1658, according to translator-producer-director Dick Swain. The play was originally a full five-act comedy of great and confusing complexity, famous mainly for the touching love tiff of the young lovers and their servants (Le Depit Amoureux literally means "The Loving Spite.") In the latc 18th century the Comedie-Francaise produced a two-act version of the play, preserving the best bits of the original, and it is a verse translation of that adaptation that Mr. Swain will present.

In 1660 Le Depit Amoureux was performed on a double bill with Le Medecin Volant for Louis XIV and his Court. It is that evening in 1660 that is being recreated on these evenings in 1993. The Flying Doctor is a one-act farce that shows the influence of Italian commedia del'arte on Moliere. Full of stock characters in incredible situations, the play preserves the on-the-spot improvisation of the Italian originals.

The wily servant Sganarelle — "King of the Tricksters" — must become a doctor and the doctor's twin brother in order to fool the good old father and to get the young lovers together — a tour de force for Mark Murphy, who plays the part.

With costumes from McCarter Theatre, the comedies will feature, in addition to Mr. Murphy, Kim Nagy and James Mount as the tiffing lovers; Derry Light and Adam Gee as their sarcastic servants; and Tom Stevenson in two very different character parts.

Produced by the music committee of the Unitarian Church, the plays are successors to last year's favorably received Moliere comedy-ballet Les Facheux or The Crazy-Makers, performed by the same company and atso translated and directed by Mr. Swain.

Tickets are $8 and $5 for students and seniors. The performance will be followed by a reception for the company and its guests. For ticket reservations, call the church at 924-1604

Roman slave named Pseudolus who will try anything to gain freedom. Throw in a disgruntled father figure, Pseudolus' impressionable young master, the girl of his dreams, courtesans, procurers and the Roman Army — the resulting mix is a setup for laughs.

Jeffrey M. Babey, who appeared in the Villagers' successful Lend Me a Tenor, stars in the role of Pseudolus. Charles Wagner IV, also from Tenor, plays the Roman captain Miles Gloriousus. The two-star-crossed lovers Philia and Hero will be played by Lauren Bodmer and Patrick Andrae, seen in last year's Into the Woods.

Others in the cast are Alan Semock, Melissa Dalton-Bradford and Nathan

"Little Shop of Horrors" Set at Off-Broadstreet

Little Shop of Horrors, the musical comedy about a man-eating plant, will open Friday at Off-Broadstreet Theatre in Hopewell for a seven-weekend run.

The show is a love story about a young man named Seymour, Audrey, the women he loves, and a plant that has gained him fortune and fame, plus a way to escape life in Skid Row. The musical is loosely based on the Roger Corman classic comedy. The musical ran off-off Broadway at the WPA Theatre and was then transferred to off-Broadway's Orpheum Theatre for a highly successful run.

Heading the cast will be Roger-john Leach as Seymour. Mr. Leach has performed in many OBT productions, his most recent being The All Night Strut. Audrey, a Skid Row girl who finds her shining knight, will be played by Kristen Dabrowski, last seen here in Groucho, A Life in Revue.

A trio of street urchins who see and tell much of the story include Kim Bantle-Taylor, Cathleen Hrynkiewicz and Donna Sorrento. Richard Chibbaro will play the dentist and various other roles. Newcomer Michael Lawrence will portray Mushnick, the Skid Row flower shop owner. Rob Pherson will be heard as the voice of the incredible plant "Audrey II."

The show is directed by Off-Broadstreet producer Bob Thick with musical direction by Stephen Peet.

Friday and Saturday evenings doors open at 7 for dessert with curtain at 8. Sunday matinees feature dessert at 1:30 with curtain at 2:30.

Admission Friday and Sunday is $15.75, Saturday admission is $17.25. Price includes both dessert and show. There is a senior citizen discount available for Sunday matinees.

Off-Broadstreet Theatre is located at 5 South Greenwood Avenue, Hopewell. For reservations, call 466-2766.

music of our time. These explorations build on the success of last summer's popular "Beethoven Revolution Weekend."

In addition, Rutgers SummerFiesta returns, as does Rutgers SummerDance series, a group of performances celebrating the Decade of the Woman, SummerFest for Young People, and the second annual SummerFest Film Festival titled "Hot Nights, Cool Cinema."

Performers who will be returning include the Tokyo String Quartet, Music from Aston Magna, Repertorio Espanol/Spanish Repertory Theater, Nikolais and Murray Louis Dance, the Essex Quartet, the Colorado Quartet, cellist Sharon Robinson, flutist James Scott, pianist Ilana Vered, harpsichordist Charlotte Mattax, tenor Frederick Urrey, jazz pianist Kenny Barron, the Rutgers Festival Orchestra with conductor Robert Kapilow, and Lionel Hampton and his Orchestra.

The east coast premiere of Western Women, Brenda Way's three-act celebration of how women made possible the opening of the American frontiers, opens the SummerDance series of Rutgers SummerFest. Western Women is by ODC/Dance San Francisco to music by Libby Larsen and Bobby McFerrin, and runs June 10 through 12 at 8 in the June 11. The Uptown String Quartet will perform a blend of classical music and African American jazz on Saturday, June 12. All SummerFest concerts are held in Nicholas Music Center.

Music of faith will be sung by the Harlem Spiritual Ensemble and the 30-male Russian choir Akafist.

SummerFiesta begins with "An Evening of Song from Latin America and Spain" featuring soprano Myra Garcia-Fernandez and pianist Pablo Zinger as a benefit for the Latino Center for Arts and Culture on Thursday, June 10.

The visual arts are represented by two exhibitions. "Photoformance" by Ernestine Ruben is an exhibition of installations integrating photography with architectural constructs, sculptural paper and glass, and motorized constructions. Ms. Ruben is well-known and highly respected in Europe, where her career has flourished for the last decade. The exhibition runs Thursday through Saturday, June 10 through July 31, at 6 to 10, at Walters Hall Gallery.

Mozart's "Magic Flute" Opens Opera Festival

Opera Festival of New Jersey will open its tenth season of opera in English with Mozart's The Magic Flute on Saturday, June 19, at 8 in the Allan P. Kirby Arts Center of The Lawrenceville School. Francis J. Cullinan, who made his Opera Festival debut last season, is directing. Michael Pratt, the Festival's music director and co-founder, is conducting.

Magic Flute will be repeated on Friday, June 25, at 8; Sunday, June 27 at 3; Saturday, July 3 at 8; Thursday, July 8 at 8; and Saturday, July 17 at 8. Tickets and subscriptions range from $28 to $90. They may be purchased by calling the box office, 936-1500, or by writing the Opera Festival Box Office, 55 Princeton-Hightstown Road, Princeton Junction 08550.

Soprano Jayne West will sing Pamina, daughter of the Queen of the Night. Ms. West sang in the first Opera Festival production of Flute ten years ago.

Tenor Richard Clement, in his Opera Festival debut, sings Tamino, a prince who has wandered from his native land. The role of Papageno, the rustic bird-catcher, will be sung by baritone Lawrence Craig in his first Lawrenceville appearance.

This year's season will begin with a Tenth Anniversary Benefit Dinner on opening night. Dinner tickets, purchased separately from opera tickets, are $75 per person and can be ordered through the box office at 936-1500.

The Festival season continues with Bizet's Carmen, opening on Saturday, June 26, in a production directed by David Gately, and conducted by Cal Stewart Kellogg, both their own, or partake of on-site catering. Picnics under the tent will not be available on opening night.

Del. Valley Men's Chorus In Concert at Richardson

The Delaware Valley Men's Chorus (DVMC) will present its second annual spring concert, "Summer Is A-Comin' In," on Saturday, June 12 at 8 in Richardson Auditorium on the Princeton University campus.

The program, conducted by Clifford H. Parrish, acting music director, ranges from early English choral music to pop and Broadway. Guest soloists are soprano Marilyn Moore and mezzo-soprano Carla Wood. Ms. Moore, who has studied at Westminster Choir College, Temple University, and the Academy of Vocal Arts, has sung extensively with the Philadelphia Opera and was a featured soloist with the Philadelphia Singers on PBS in Bach's Magnificat.

Ms. Wood has performed as guest soloist with the Rome Festival Opera, the Mormon Tabernacle Choir, Opera Pacific, the Connecticut Grand Opera, and at the Dorothy Chandler Pavilion. She has also performed with The New Jersey State Opera and Princeton's Ars Musica.

The DVMC, a member of GALA, the Gay and Lesbian Association of Choruses, is a 40-member regional community chorus drawing from communities in Central and Northern New Jersey; the Philadelphia area; and Bucks County, Pa.

All tickets are $10. To reserve tickets or for further information, call the Richardson Auditorium box office at 258-5000 or write The Delaware Valley Men's Chorus, P.O. Box 37, Lambertville 08530.

Concert at WW Church For Princeton Singers

The Princeton Singers will give their final concert of the season Sunday, June 13, at 4 at the Church of St. David the King, West Windsor. The concert will include works by Parsons, Byrd, and Poulenc, and will feature Britten's Rejoice in the Lamb.

Founded in 1983 by John Bertalot, director of music at Trinity Church, The Princeton Singers is a 25-voice chamber choir which specializes in unaccompanied sacred and secular choral music spanning the last 500 years. The choir's repertoire ranges from the works of Josquin des Prez, Palestrina, and English madrigalists to those of Britten, Howells and other 20th-century composers.

The Princeton Singers recorded two programs which were broadcast by the BBC in Great Britain in April and May. They have been invited to sing in England at the Hereford Three Choirs Festival and at St. Paul's Cathedral and Westminster Abbey in August, 1994.

A suggested donation of $10 ($4 for students and senior citizens) will be accepted at the door.

Mozart's "Magic Flute" Opens Opera Festival

Opera Festival of New Jersey will open its tenth season of opera in English with Mozart's The Magic Flute on Saturday, June 19, at 8 in the Allan P. Kirby Arts Center of The Lawrenceville School. Francis J. Cullinan, who made his Opera Festival debut last season, is directing. Michael Pratt, the Festival's music director and co-founder, is conducting.

Magic Flute will be repeated on Friday, June 25, at 8; Sunday, June 27 at 3; Saturday, July 3 at 8; Thursday, July 8 at 8; and Saturday, July 17 at 8. Tickets and subscriptions range from $28 to $90. They may be purchased by calling the box office, 936-1500, or by writing the Opera Festival Box Office, 55 Princeton-Hightstown Road, Princeton Junction 08550.

Soprano Jayne West will sing Pamina, daughter of the Queen of the Night. Ms. West sang in the first Opera Festival production of Flute ten years ago.

Tenor Richard Clement, in his Opera Festival debut, sings Tamino, a prince who has wandered from his native land. The role of Papageno, the rustic bird-catcher, will be sung by baritone Lawrence Craig in his first Lawrenceville appearance.

This year's season will begin with a Tenth Anniversary Benefit Dinner on opening night. Dinner tickets, purchased separately from opera tickets, are $75 per person and can be ordered through the box office at 936-1500.

The Festival season continues with Bizet's Carmen, opening on Saturday, June 26, in a production directed by David Gately, and conducted by Cal Stewart Kellogg, both their own, or partake of on-site catering. Picnics under the tent will not be available on opening night.

Del. Valley Men's Chorus In Concert at Richardson

The Delaware Valley Men's Chorus (DVMC) will present its second annual spring concert, "Summer Is A-Comin' In," on Saturday, June 12 at 8 in Richardson Auditorium on the Princeton University campus.

The program, conducted by Clifford H. Parrish, acting music director, ranges from early English choral music to pop and Broadway. Guest soloists are soprano Marilyn Moore and mezzo-soprano Carla Wood. Ms. Moore, who has studied at Westminster Choir College, Temple University, and the Academy of Vocal Arts, has sung extensively with the Philadelphia Opera and was a featured soloist with the Philadelphia Singers on PBS in Bach's Magnificat.

Ms. Wood has performed as guest soloist with the Rome Festival Opera, the Mormon Tabernacle Choir, Opera Pacific, the Connecticut Grand Opera, and at the Dorothy Chandler Pavilion. She has also performed with The New Jersey State Opera and Princeton's Ars Musica.

The DVMC, a member of GALA, the Gay and Lesbian Association of Choruses, is a 40-member regional community chorus drawing from communities in Central and Northern New Jersey; the Philadelphia area, and Bucks County, Pa.

All tickets are $10. To reserve tickets or for further information, call the Richardson Auditorium box office at 258-5000 or write The Delaware Valley Men's Chorus, P.O. Box 37, Lambertville 08530.

Concert at WW Church For Princeton Singers

The Princeton Singers will give their final concert of the season Sunday, June 13, at 4 at the Church of St. David the King, West Windsor. The concert will include works by Parsons, Byrd, and Poulenc, and will feature Britten's Rejoice in the Lamb.

Founded in 1983 by John Bertalot, director of music at Trinity Church, The Princeton Singers is a 25-voice chamber choir which specializes in unaccompanied sacred and secular choral music spanning the last 500 years. The choir's repertoire ranges from the works of Josquin des Prez, Palestrina, and English madrigalists to those of Britten, Howells and other 20th-century composers.

beating North Carolina and Syracuse in the space of 48 hours to win their first title since the final four format began in 1971.

There was motivation aplenty 12 months ago, as coach Bill Tierney and his players sought to dispel any thoughts that they didn't belong in the final four. It was as much a fight for respect as anything else.

SPORTS

In the pre-game press conference the day before the semifinals, Tierney acknowledged that Princeton had gotten "respect from the people who are important. We've gotten respect from the other coaches, we've gotten respect from the other players."

While Tierney had to take a different tack to put his team on an emotional high, Syracuse coach Roy Simmons Jr. and his players, who saw their number one seeding go down the drain last May, were on a mission. Simmons sought to dispel any notion of a revenge motive in his statements preceding the game, but he was blowing more smoke than a two-pack a day man. In its broadcast of Saturday's game, Simmons was quoted by Princeton radio station WPRB as saying the 1992 title "rightfully belonged" to Syracuse.

Syracuse never expected to lose last spring in Franklin Field, and in the relatively small world of college lacrosse it was handed the golden opportunity to make amends. And, as luck would have it, it got to meet Princeton in the semis instead of having to wait until the finals.

THIS IS ABOUT THE WAY THE GAME WENT: A Syracuse player looks ready to jump on a fallen Torr Marro in semifinal action Saturday. Revenge was sweet, in the form of a 15-9 victory for the Orangemen, who had waited a year after last year's loss to the Tigers in the finals. (Larry French photo)

By the time the Orangemen had beaten the Tigers and were looking ahead to the championship contest with the Tarheels, Simmons was ready to admit to his squad's added incentive. "We might have the emotional edge," he commented about the North Carolina game, "because when we played before we were the ones who got licked." The Tarheels won the first meeting between the two, 14-10, in March. (Syracuse also lost to Loyola by a goal, its only losses of the season.)

Monday afternoon, Syracuse went out and defeated top-ranked North Carolina, 13-12, to settle that score and complete its quest for its first title since 1990. "These seniors won two national titles, a silver and a bronze," Simmons commented. "They just did not want to go out with another silver."

Tigers Stumble in Semis

There was a distinct feeling here that if Tierney's team could have found a way to beat Syraeuse, it would prevail over North Carolina, a 16-10 winner over Johns Hopkins in the semis, in the finals. The Orange and Black lost in March, 7-5.

And for a brief time in the first period, it looked as if Old Nassau would repeat its success of a year ago against Syracuse, when it scored the first six goals. For the most part, Princeton controlled the ball in the early going, looking for the good shot. The contest was more than six minutes old before Scott Reinhardt put the Tigers in front, 1-0, with an unassisted tally.

Less than two minutes later (8:11) he seored another unassisted tally with the Tigers a man up. However, that 2-0 advantage turned out to be Princeton's highwater mark for this contest. The Orangemen didn't get their first goal until 11:08 into the first period, but they followed with two more in a little over a minute for a 3-2 lead at the end of the quarter.

Freshman Jason Buttles brought the Tigers even after a scramble in front of the Syracuse cage just 21 seconds into the second period, assisted by Kevin Lowe, and the deadlock continued for the next five minutes. At that point Syraeuse produeed another three-goal flurry in 77 seconds. The lead it playing field, you all have to play by the same rules."

A year ago, Syracuse had had similar success with a stick check against Justin Tortolani (too deep a pocket on his stick) and used the resulting penalty to good advantage.

An Opportunity Lost

"It was a crucial point of the game, eommented Tierney. "It took a goal away from them and some momentum, but we couldn't do anything with it. Give them the eredit. They took those three minutes away from us due to nothing exeept fantastic play on their part."

Princeton did score the next goal, but not until mueh later when Buttles got his second The deficit was down to two, 6-4, but that was as close as

Basketball Camp Set By Philadelphia 76er

Greg Grant of the Philadelphia 76ers will offer a basketball camp for boys and girls in grades three to eight August 2 through 6 at Princeton Day School. The camp will be held from 9 to 3 each day.

In addition to Mr. Grant, the staff will include David First, Princeton Day School boys' varsity basketball coach, Cindy Westhead, Lawrence High girls' varsity coach, Sean Devaney, Holmdel High boys' varsity coach, Shelly Deardon, Ewing High girls' varsity coach, and other college and high school coaches, current and former college players.

With a seven to one camper-staff ratio, the objective is to insure individual instruction to each player through drills and team competition. Emphasis will be on the fundamentals of basketball: shooting, passing, ball handling and defensive play.

Campers will be divided into team groups for organized league play according to their age and ability. Each team will have its own coach with practice time allotted to work on team play. Special features include a free camp T-shirt, appearances by a few Philadelphia 76ers players and a Division 1 coach, and one-to-one games with Mr. Grant.

Free transportation will be provided for parents who are unable to bring or pick up their child. The tuition is $145 per camper. For information write Greg Grant's Basketball Camp, Princeton Day School, P.O. Box 75, The Great Road, Princeton 08542, attention David First, or call 252-0970. Phone calls may also be directed to Cheryl Guerriero, camp coordinator, at (908) 787-4139.

finals, improved to 23-2.

The Little Tigers' strength this year has been in its doubles play and both tandems came through again. Against Millburn, the North Section 2 Group II champion, the second doubles of Adam Brio and Nikhil Mavinkurve went through the season undefeated by shaking off a lacklustre 2-6 first-set loss to dominate the third set, 6-0. In between, the freshman Mavinkurve and the sophomore transfer from Indiana, Brio, won the second set in a pulsating tie-breaker, 7-6 (7-5).

Brio saw the crucial second set as a testing ground. "We figured out what we had to do and then we went and executed in the third set." One point for PHS.

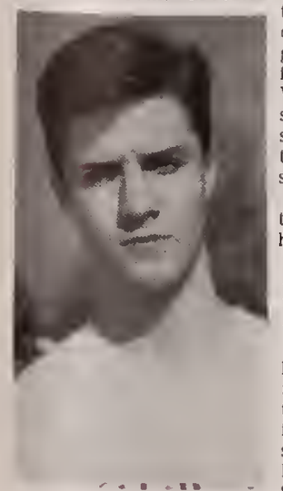
Princeton made it two points when its first doubles of Chris Simmons and Phil Scott defeated Dan Gruber and Scott McLellan, 6-2, 7-5.

A key match for PHS figured to be third singles, where freshman Mike Hundley was undefeated and whose three-set win had clinched Princeton's victory over Holmdel. Hundley was no match, however, for Millburn's Chip Moldenhauer, who handed Hundley his first loss, 6-0, 6-1.

At first singles, Dan Wang lost a good match to Millburn veteran Adrian Schiavo, 2-6, 7-6 (7-5), 6-0. "I give Wang a lot of credit for his second set comeback," said PHS's Joe Diefenbach. The veteran PHS coach felt the difference was Schiavo's experience in contrast to Wang, who took over the No. 1 position in midseason.

Former No. 1 player for PHS, Mike Kestenbaum, was routed at second singles by Millburn's Steve Sarpi, who won for the 18th time in 21 matches with a 6-0, 6-1 victory.

"The kids did a nice job," insisted Diefenbach. "Millburn is a tough team."



Adam Brio

Holmdel 0-4 Against PHS

The previous three years, PHS had knocked Holmdel out of the Central Jersey tournament and this year was no exception. Said Holmdel coach Jeff Luchenback, whose team came into the match with 19 wins, "It would be nice down the road to finally win one but I have to give them credit. They played good tennis."

Simmons and Scott triumphed, 6-3, 6-4, and Brio and Mavinkurve followed with a 6-3, 6-2 triumph in doubles play.

The match evened when PHS lost at first and second singles. Wang dropped the first two games to Mike Klatsky, rallied to win the next four and force a tie-breaker, which he lost 7-2. Klatsky, a seeded player in the upcoming state singles tournament, took the second set, 6-2, and the match. Kestenbaum went down, 2-6, 2-6.

That left the outcome up to the freshman Hundley. Relying on a crisp serve and volley game, Hundley prevailed in the first set, 7-6 (7-3) over Nitin Varma. Varma took the second set, 6-4. After the decisive third set was tied at 3-3, Hundley won three of the next four for a 6-4 set win and the match.

The lone senior on the PHS team is Scott. Holmdel might have to wait yet another year

Penningroth Is First In Shot in State Meet

Princeton High senior Ailey Penningroth, quite possibly the most prolific scorer in track in the school's history, capped her four-year career by winning the shot put event Saturday in the NJSIAA Group II state finals at South Plainfield.

Penningroth captured the gold medal with a toss of 39-4¼, two feet farther than anyone else in the Group II competition, and thus atoned for last year when she was expected to win the event and came in third.

Penningroth, who will enter Harvard University in the fall, then displayed her versatility by coming in fifth in the 400 hurdles in 1:07.6 the same day. The previous day, in the opening day of competition, Penningroth finished sixth in the 100 hurdles with a clocking of 16:64. In the semifinal heat for the event, Penningroth had run a 15.9. She will compete in the Meet of Champions this week.

Kate Blofson of PHS won the unseeded 800 heat in 2:30.24 but did not place in the finals. Sara Foster was fifth in the 3,200 in 12:06.32.

In the Group II boys' final, Princeton High's Zack Price finished eighth in the 1,600 in 4:38.2 and Nick Sferra cleared 12-0 to finish eighth in the pole vault. The Little Tiger 4x400 relay team came in sixth.

Marquis Johnson, who had won the high jump the previous weekend in the Central Jersey Group II championship meet, did not compete in that event at South Plainfield. The previous day, Johnson was 12th in the long jump with a leap of 20-8¾. Joran Gillis ran a 53.2 to finish fourth in a 400 heat but did not place in the finals.

June 9th Is the Date For Tennis Fund Raiser

The Princeton Tennis Program will hold its 10th annual Princeton Tennis Classic fund raiser on June 9. Courts have been reserved on that date at Princeton Univeristy and at Community Park.

Last year, PTP awarded more than $20,000 in scholarships and conducted programs in Hamilton and Trenton. This year, in memory of Arthur Ashe, the PTP is making a donation to the Trenton chapter of the National Junior Tennis League, a group founded by Ashe.

For $2,000, corporate sponsors of the Classic can field three doubles teams, receive eight cockail party tickets and have their company banner displayed at courtside. Individual teams may enter for $300.

All players begin with lunch,

finals, improved to 25-2.

The Little Tigers' strength this year has been in its doubles play and both tandems came through again. Against Millburn, the North Section 2 Group II champion, the second doubles of Adam Brio and Nikhil Mavinkurve went through the season undefeated by shaking off a lacklustre 2-6 first-set loss to dominate the third set, 6-0. In between, the freshman Mavinkurve and the sophomore transfer from Indiana, Brio, won the second set in a pulsating tie-breaker, 7-6 (7-5).

Brio saw the crucial second set as a testing ground. "We figured out what we had to do and then we went and executed in the third set." One point for PHS.

Princeton made it two points when its first doubles of Chris Simmons and Phil Scott defeated Dan Gruber and Scott McLellan, 6-2, 7-5.

A key match for PHS figured to be third singles, where freshman Mike Hundley was undefeated and whose three-set win had clinched Princeton's victory over Holmdel. Hundley was no match, however, for Millburn's Chip Moldenhauer, who handed Hundley his first loss, 6-0, 6-1.

At first singles, Dan Wang lost a good match to Millburn veteran Adrian Schiavo, 2-6, 7-6 (7-5), 6-0. "I give Wang a lot ol credit for his second set comeback," said PHS's Joe Diefenbach. The veteran PHS coach felt the difference was Schiavo's experience in contrast to Wang, who took over the No. 1 position in midseason

HEADING 10th ANNUAL PRINCETON TENNIS CLASSIC: Co-chairpersons of the Princeton Tennis Classic fund-raiser, which will be held June 9, are Barbara Horowitz, left, and Clara Knapp, who are flanking honorary chairperson Lucinda Florio. At the rear is Henry Bergnaud, general manager of the Scanticon Hotel where the day's finals and a cocktail party will be held.

at second singles by Millburn's Steve Sarpi, who won for the 18th time in 21 matches with a 6-0, 6-1 victory.

"The kids did a nice job," insisted Diefenbach. "Millburn is a tough team."

Holmdel 0-4 Against PHS

The previous three years, PHS had knocked Holmdel out of the Central Jersey tournament and this year was no exception. Said Holmdel coach Jeff Luchenbaek, whose team came into the match with 19 wins, "It would be nice down the road to finally win one but I have to give them credit. They played good tennis."

Simmons and Scott triumphed, 6-3, 6-4, and Brio and Mavinkurve followed with a 6-3, 6-2 triumph in doubles play.

The match evened when PHS lost at first and second singles. Wang dropped the first two games to Mike Klatsky, rallied to win the next four and force a tie-breaker, which he lost 7-2. Klatsky, a seeded player in the upcoming state singles tournament, took the second set, 6-2, and the match. Kestenbaum went down, 2-6, 2-6.

That left the outcome up to the freshman Hundley. Relying on a crisp serve and volley game, Hundley prevailed in the first set, 7-6 (7-3) over Nitin Varma. Varma took the second set, 6-4. After the decisive third set was tied at 3-3, Hundley won three of the next four for a 6-4 set win and the match

The lone senior on the PHS team is Scott. Holmdel might have to wait yet another year.

Penningroth Is First In Shot in State Meet

Princeton High senior Ailey Penningroth, quite possibly the most prolific scorer in track in the school's history, capped her four-year career by winning the shot put event Saturday in the NJSIAA Group II state finals at South Plainfield.

Penningroth captured the gold medal with a toss of 39-4¼, two feet farther than anyone else in the Group II competition, and thus atoned for last year when she was expected to win the event and came in third.

Penningroth, who will enter Harvard University in the fall, then displayed her versatility by coming in fifth in the 400 hurdles in 1:07.6 the same day. The previous day, in the opening day of competition, Penningroth finished sixth in the 100 hurdles with a clocking of 16:64. In the semifinal heat for the event, Penningroth had run a 15.9. She will compete in the Meet of Champions this week

Kate Blofson of PHS won the unseeded 800 heat in 2:30.24 but did not place in the finals. Sara Foster was fifth in the 3,200 in 12:06.32.

In the Group II boys' final, Princeton High's Zaek Price finished eighth in the 1,600 in 4:38.2 and Nick Sferra cleared 12-0 to finish eighth in the pole vault. The Little Tiger 4x400 relay team eame in sixth.

Marquis Johnson, who had won the high jump the previous weekend in the Central Jersey Group II championship meet, did not compete in that event at South Plainfield. The previous day, Johnson was 12th in the long jump with a leap of 20-8¾. Joran Gillis ran a 53.2 to finish fourth in a 400 heat but did not place in the finals.

June 9th Is the Date For Tennis Fund Raiser

The Princeton Tennis Program will hold its 10th annual Princeton Tennis Classic fund raiser on June 9. Courts have been reserved on that date at Princeton Univeristy and at Community Park.

Last year, PTP awarded more than $20,000 in scholarships and conducted programs in Hamilton and Trenton. This year, in memory of Arthur Ashe, the PTP is making a donation to the Trenton chapter of the National Junior Tennis League, a group founded by Ashe.

For $2,000, corporate sponsors of the Classic can field three doubles teams, receive eight cockail party tickets and have their company banner displayed at courtside. Individual teams may enter for $300.

Certainly, it was not the season that Petrone had hoped for. The team's highwater mark came one third into the season when it defeated South Brunswick and Trenton back-to-back for a 3-4 record. It was downhill the rest of the way, punctuated by one other high point, a 4-3 victory over a strong Delran team.

Early on, Petrone complained about the lack of hitting but it was the lack of dominating pitching that hurt the most. Spies finished with a 3-5 record, while Rathbone was 2-6. Kaczmarek, Richard Bliss and Procaccini were a combined 0-5.

Seniors who played their last game for PHS include DeVeau, a four-year starter and .300 hitter, Garrett Roberts, Matt O'Connor, Kaczmarek and Yuen.

Old Story for Ficarro's: Stranded Base Runners

"The same old story," said Steve Ficarro Auto Body general manager Bob Smyth, after the Princeton-based team dropped a 5-1 decision last week to league-leading Miller Lite.

"It's a game we could have won," maintained Smyth. "Miller is just rolling over everyone (10-0 in league play) and we held them to five runs. For us to get 11 hits and strand 11 and get only one run — that's a terrible ratio."

With the loss, Ficarro's evens its record at 4-4. It will try to get back on track in defense of its league championship, when it meets Dot's Girls on Thursday at 7:30 on Field 3 and Three Seasons on Tuesday at 6:30 on Field 4, both games at Mercer Park.

Miller went to work early against Ficarro's, scoring four runs in the first inning on six hits. After that, the Ficarro defense and pitcher Carol Ann Mazzella played well, but the damage had been done.

Ficarro's scored its lone run in the third, when, with two outs, it connected for three straight singles. It stranded two runners in the first, second, third and sixth innings.

Donna Nicholson led the losers at the plate with three hits in four at bats. Grace Moylan had two hits and drove in the team's only run.

and one honorable mention. "To have seven players honored, I think that says a lot," said McQuade.

"We had a great team, a great year," agreed McQuade. "I'm proud of them. I think they really enjoyed it.

"But we try to keep it in perspective. Winning isn't everything. We give a lot of individual attention. I think players come out of Hun a better student, a better person."

———

Hun players named to the all-prep team include pitcher Jeff Ferraro, who owned nine of Hun's 17 wins; catcher John Rooney, first baseman Dave Loftin and third baseman Matt D'Altrui. Named to the second team from Hun were shortstop Keith Babula, and outfielders Chris Arland and Sam Boraie.

Sophomore pitcher Mike Geiger, who compiled a 3-0 record this year, received honorable mention. Rooney, Loftin and Babula are all post-graduate students.

Nice Nucleus Returns

Hun, says McQuade, has a nice little nucleus coming back next year and if he is able to pick up a couple of new faces, either transfers or PGs, as he has done the past few years, it could be a banner year for the Raiders.

Heading that list of returnees will be Ferraro, who posted a 6-2 record as a sophomore in addition to this year's sparkling 9-2 effort. At 15-4, he ranks right up there with the best Hun pitchers over the years.

The record for most wins in a season at Hun is owned by Paul Cramer, who went 10-1 in 1972 when Hun finished 13-3. In those days there were no regulations on the number of innings a pitcher could work per week, McQuade reported. Pete Stam was another Hun standout with a 9-2 record.

The record for the most Hun wins is 16, compiled by rubber-armed workhorse Ernie Barbiero, who earned 8-4 records in both the 1975 and '76 seasons — a mark Ferraro should eclipse early next spring.

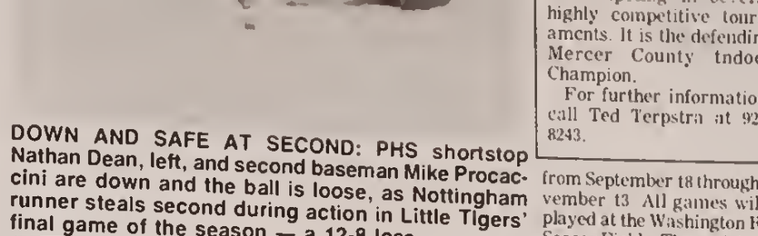
Joining Ferraro as returnees will be D'Altrui, who batted .480 for Hun this year; Arland, who batted .340; designated hitter Ian Matuszewski, infielder and good clutch hitter Dan Kvarta, and backup catcher Mark Nissam.

Little wonder that McQuade, who has never lost even a trace of enthusiasm for the game and who is one of the premier teachers of the sport, said for the 23rd time last week, "I can't wait until next year."



DOWN AND SAFE AT SECOND: PHS shortstop Nathan Dean, left, and second baseman Mike Procaccini are down and the ball is loose, as Nottingham runner steals second during action in Little Tigers' final game of the season — a 12-8 loss.

The game developed into a pitchers' duel between Ferraro and Lawrenceville's Garth Ballantyne. Hun scored its only run in the second when Ken Cantanella reached base on an error, went to second on Eisenberg's single and advanced to third on Kavarta's infield chopper. Cantanella scored when second baseman Dave Appollon could not make the play at second in time and then threw wildly to the plate.

Lawrenceville tied the game at 1 in the fourth and scored the winning run an inning later when DH Bob Howard singled for one of seven Lawrenceville hits, stole second, raced to third on the overthrow at second by Hun catcher Rooney and then came home on an RBI single by Dave Lewis.

"We made a couple of throwing errors and we didn't execute when we had to," said McQuade. "We didn't come up with the key hit."

Ballantyne limited Hun to three hits and got stronger as the game went on. He struck out three and walked two, in winning his seventh against two losses. Ferraro fanned five, did not issue a single walk but was touched for seven hits.

"It was a good ballgame. Both teams played well," said McQuade. "Jeff pitched a great ball game and had a no-hitter for four innings."

Hun last won the A championship four years ago in 1989. For Lawrenceville, it was the Big Red's 16th appearance in the Prep A final in the past 16 years. They have won the title nine times.

Princeton Storm Winner In Va. Soccer Tourney

The Princeton Storm, a boys' traveling soccer team sponsored by Nassau Street Seafood, won the champions division in the under-12 section of The Virginian Soccer Tournament in Springfield, Va., over the Memorial Day weekend. The champions division is designed for the highest ranking teams in the tournament, and included the host team from Springfield, the Virginia State Cup winners, who failed to emerge from their flight. The Storm defeated West Shore, pulled even by halftime Donahue scored again four minutes into the second half to complete his hat trick, only to see West Shore tie the score again with 15 minutes remaining. The game-winner came with three minutes left, when Noah Stout threaded a ground pass through six defenders and passed to Jeff Coleman who put the ball in the net.

The Storm's first game on Saturday was a 6-3 victory over the Seneca Fury of Maryland. Seneca scored twice in the early minutes, but the Storm took the lead at halftime on goals by Mark Wickens, Nathan Hess, and Noah Stout. Seneca tied the score midway through the second half. Alex Mathews clinched the victory for the Storm with a hat trick within the last 10 minutes.

In Saturday's second game, the Storm defeated the Bowie, Md., Cardinals, 6-0. Andy Saltman and Stout scored two each. Mathews and Donahue also scored for the Storm. Demont Heard earned the shutout in goal.

To advance to the semifinals, the Storm needed a draw with Havertown, Pa. Stout scored early, and the Storm kept the ball in Havertown's half of the field throughout much of the game. Havertown scored on a quick counter-attack in the second half, but the Storm held on in the last 15 minutes for the tie.

In the semifinal, the Storm defeated the Atlantic Sharks, 3-0, on a hat trick by Stout. Stout's goals gave him a total of seven for the tournament and 26 in May. Peter Shungu won the ball repeatedly on the left side of the midfield to begin Storm attacks. John Walsh contributed valuable minutes as a striker, despite an injured foot. Heard again recorded the shutout.

Throughout the tournament, the Storm's defense held firm. Sweeper David Pryor and marking backs Jeff Coleman, Francesco Rusciano, Wayne Shaw, and Ted Shoaf withstood strong attacks by opposing strikers.

The tournament brought the Storm's spring season to a close. They won 12, lost one, and tied one. The victories included a 3-0 win over the Cen-highly competitive tournaments. It is the defending Mercer County tndoor Champion.

Ms. Jefferson would like to become incorporated as a non-profit organization so she could accept gifts that in turn would enable her to find a house and buy a van. Her dream is to run the house as a haven for crack babies. She says the only reason she would not take AIDS babies is her son; he might not be as careful as she would be in handling an AIDS baby and she couldn't risk his becoming infected.

Ms. Jefferson hopes to accomplish the paper work for becoming a nonprofit and find a suitable house within a year. She sees the ideal number of children in such a house as under 10. She thinks being named Foster Mother of the Year, which came as an unexpected surprise, may be the catalyst she needs to realize her plans. She knows there is a great need, and she has had plenty of practice.

She may not have heard of Mother Hale who founded a home for drug babies in New York City and ran it with her daughter until she died this past winter. Ms. Jefferson could be on the way to becoming the Mother Hale of the Princeton area.

an attendance office for the Trenton Board of Education for 17 years. He served on the Joint Commission on Aging and the Princeton Housing Authority.

Son of the late Leon D. Redding and Carrie Yates Redding Stewart, he is survived by his wife, Eva McEwen Redding; four sons, Darryl of Greensboro, N.C., Leon of Princeton, Daniel of Yardley, Pa., and David of Levittown, Pa.; four daughters, Merle Davis of Los Angeles, Ella Womack of Trenton, Fern Spruill of Princeton and Carmen Harrison of Lawrenceville; a brother, William Stewart of Trenton; 18 grandchildren; and several nieces and nephews.

The service was held Tuesday at Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Church, the Rev. John White, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Princeton Cemetery.

Truemaine Boone Jezquel, 56, died May 28 at Princeton Medical Center.

Born in Princeton, she lived in the area all her life. Ms. Jezquel worked in the material management department of Princeton Medical Center.

She is survived by a son, Dale K. Boone of Elizabeth; her mother, Zada Everett Boone of Princeton; a sister, Veronica Shorter of Princeton; six grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

The service will be held Thursday at 11 at Anderson Funeral Home, 300 North Willow Street, Trenton, the Rev. Dr. Peter Parris officiating. Burial will be in Ewing Cemetery. Calling hours will be 9 until time of service Thursday at the funeral home.

Thomas M. Nichols, 76, of Hopewell, died May 23 at Princeton Medical Center. Born in Jersey City, he lived in Hopewell more than 20 years.

An Army veteran, Mr. Nichols was a championship boxer during his active military career, which included armament training to cadets at West Point. He worked as a security guard at several locations, including his most recent job at nue, Hopewell 08525.

Mary Argue Connors, 88, died May 27 at Hamilton Hospital. Born in Cavan, Ireland, she came to the United States and lived in Princeton since 1958.

Mrs. Connors worked as a sales person for Polly's Fine Candies in Princeton for five years before she retired in 1977.

Wife of the late William Connors, she is survived by two sons, Nicholas J. Smith of Lawrenceville and Thomas N. Smith of Princeton; two daughters, Margaret M. Paul of Lawrenceville and Helen M. Long of Princeton; two sisters, Helen Maher of Mount Vernon, N.Y., and Margaret Cahill of New York; and 11 grandchildren.

Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated Saturday at St. Paul's Church with burial in Princeton Cemetery. Memorial contributions may be made to the Home House Ministry of St. Paul's Church, 214 Nassau Street, Princeton 08542, or to the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad, P.O. Box 529, Princeton 08542.

Margaret R. Whalen, 62, of Lawrenceville, died May 26 at Princeton Medical Center. Born in Kansas City, Mo., she lived in Lawrenceville for 30 years.

Mrs. Whalen worked as an assistant to the director of college counseling at Princeton Day School.

She is survived by a son, John R. Drain of Sierra Vista, Ariz.; two daughters, Genevieve Zara of Mercerville and Kelly Allen of Lawrenceville; two sisters, Ann Keyes of La Cyne, Kan., and Mary Schloegel of Raytown, Mo.; and three grandchildren.

The service was held Saturday at a Lawrence funeral home, the Rev. H. Dana Fearon III, pastor of Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church, officiating. Burial was in Lawrenceville Cemetery. Memorial contributions may be made to the American Cancer Society, 3076 Princeton Pike, Lawrenceville 08648-2304.

Mortgages from $200,000–convertible to a fixed rat

CHASE offers a 1-year Jumbo ARM that helps you take advantage of today's low interest rates and avoid any unpleasant surprises if rates rise in the future.

This Jumbo ARM offers you more than just substantial savings. In addition to valuable options such as no points, low closing costs and a low lifetime rate ceiling—you'll enjoy personalized service and a prompt loan decision from a dedicated Chase Relationship Manager. But best of all, if interest rates rise, you'll have the option to convert to a fixed rate mortgage.*

So make tomorrow's best financing decision today.

an attendance office for the Trenton Board of Education for 17 years. He served on the Joint Commission on Aging and the Princeton Housing Authority.

Son of the late Leon D. Redding and Carrie Yates Redding Stewart, he is survived by his wife, Eva McEwen Redding; four sons, Darryl of Greensboro, N.C., Leon of Princeton, Daniel of Yardley, Pa., and David of Levittown, Pa.; four daughters, Merle Davis of Los Angeles, Ella Womack of Trenton, Fern Spruill of Princeton and Carmen Harrison of Lawrenceville; a brother, William Stewart of Trenton; 18 grandchildren; and several nieces and nephews.

The service was held Tuesday at Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Church, the Rev. John White, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Princeton Cemetery.

Truemaine Boone Jezquel, 56, died May 28 at Princeton Medical Center.

Born in Princeton, she lived in the area all her life. Ms. Jezquel worked in the material management department of Princeton Medical Center.

She is survived by a son, Dale K. Boone of Elizabeth; her mother, Zada Everett Boone of Princeton; a sister, Veronica Shorter of Princeton; six grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

The service will be held Thursday at 11 at Anderson Funeral Home, 300 North Willow Street, Trenton, the Rev. Dr. Peter Parris officiating. Burial will be in Ewing Cemetery. Calling hours will be 9 until time of service Thursday at the funeral home.

Thomas M. Nichols, 76, of Hopewell, died May 23 at Princeton Medical Center. Born in Jersey City, he lived in Hopewell more than 20 years.

An Army veteran, Mr. Nichols was a championship boxer during his active military career, which included armament training to cadets at West Point. He worked as a security guard at several locations, including his most recent job at nue, Hopewell 08525.

Mary Argue Connors, 88, died May 27 at Hamilton Hospital. Born in Cavan, Ireland, she came to the United States and lived in Princeton since 1958.

Mrs. Connors worked as a sales person for Polly's Fine Candies in Princeton for five years before she retired in 1977.

Wife of the late William Connors, she is survived by two sons, Nicholas J. Smith of Lawrenceville and Thomas N. Smith of Princeton; two daughters, Margaret M. Paul of Lawrenceville and Helen M. Long of Princeton; two sisters, Helen Maher of Mount Vernon, N.Y., and Margaret Cahill of New York; and 11 grandchildren.

Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated Saturday at St. Paul's Church with burial in Princeton Cemetery. Memorial contributions may be made to the Home House Ministry of St. Paul's Church, 214 Nassau Street, Princeton 08542, or to the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad, P.O. Box 529, Princeton 08542.

Margaret R. Whalen, 62, of Lawrenceville, died May 26 at Princeton Medical Center. Born in Kansas City, Mo., she lived in Lawrenceville for 30 years.

Mrs. Whalen worked as an assistant to the director of college counseling at Princeton Day School.

She is survived by a son, John R. Drain of Sierra Vista, Ariz.; two daughters, Genevieve Zara of Mercerville and Kelly Allen of Lawrenceville; two sisters, Ann Keyes of La Cyne, Kan., and Mary Schloegel of Raytown, Mo.; and three grandchildren.

The service was held Saturday at a Lawrence funeral home, the Rev. H. Dana Fearon III, pastor of Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church, officiating. Burial was in Lawrenceville Cemetery. Memorial contributions may be made to the American Cancer Society, 3076 Princeton Pike, Lawrenceville 08648-2304.
